

TERMS OF USE

TEST-CENTRAL.COM contains proprietary information that is protected under United States and International copyright laws and is currently undergoing patent research. Visitors are prohibited from reproducing or distributing any portion of this site in any form or media to any corporation, business, individual, or other entity in the United States of America or any Foreign Sovereignty without the expressed written consent of Acts Corporation, Inc. Reproduction includes, but is not limited to, saving to disk or any other media or duplicating by any means the graphics or text of displayed pages, test content, or test and question definitions presented at this site. Distribution includes, but is not limited to, the release of any materials incorporating protected information in any printed, electronic, or other media to any party or concern over which your organization does not have the authority to enforce confidentiality of the content of said materials. If you are visiting this site by way of an evaluation account, you may use the functionality granted only for internal and noncommercial use for the purpose of evaluating this product or service and explicitly agree to limit the use and presentation of this site or product to employees or entities directly related to the evaluation of this product. By Using of this evaluation account, your organization is explicitly granting ACTS Corporation permission to display any trademarked or otherwise protected graphic or text material used to identify your organization on the displayed pages of this site and such permission is limited to logos, insignias, slogans, and/or names registered by your organization with any protecting authority in your locale or National Sovereignty. Use of this evaluation account constitutes explicit acceptance of all the terms and conditions set forth herein and any and all liability associated therewith. You may not grant access to this evaluation account to any person or entity over which you do not have the authority to enforce this agreement upon. Granting access to this evaluation account to any person or entity constitutes acceptance of liability for any and all violations of the terms of use of this account and any damages of any kind resulting from violations by any and all parties to whom access was granted by the evaluation account administrator or administrators or registered users created by said administrator. ACTS Corporation, Inc., hopes your experience with our products and services are very gratifying and useful. However, we must protect the proprietary elements of our products and services and will therefore reluctantly pursue litigation against any and all parties who violate the terms of use of this site. For specific requests for use of any protected material on this site, please contact us at: Mailing Address:

ACTS Corporation Headquarters
410 Stanley Street
Kingsland, TX 78639
Phone: 915-388-3525
Fax: 915-388-6127
Email: specialrequests@actscorp.com